Allen,

My EHS Coordinator is on vacation this week, returning on Monday. I will collect the information you require and forward next week.

As far as Saint Jean, we are still in production, however our business is off approximately 50% from a year ago due to the automotive industry collapse. We've also had to do some double'ing up on responsibilities as we've had a significant layoff.

In speaking today with Garnett Wise, it does appear that we have missed our November 2008 and May 2009 Semi-Annual Reports. (Garnett is not under contract with Saint Jean this year, but is providing some assistance as a courtesy.) Our sample for the May 2009 Report is currently out for analysis. I won't know the status until Melinda returns next week.

My contact information is below if you need to contact me and discuss this matter in person.

Kenny,

The last correspondence this office can locate in your file is dated May 30, 2008. It contained three previous semi-annual reports: 11/06 thru 4/07; 5/07 thru 10/07 & 11/07 thru 4/08 with the last 2 indicating monthly avg. violations of Zn compared to the production based limits in 40 CFR 467.46 calculated last by Rufus Torrence back in May of '07.

What is the current status of St. Jean's operations? Is there still regulated wastewater being discharged to the Heber Springs' wastewater collection system? The last semi-annual report indicated there was still 1,313 gpd being discharged from the solution heat treatment.

Please advise.

Sincerely,

Allen Gilliam
