ADEQ: What We Do

The Department of Environmental Quality is an agency of the state of Arkansas. We are headquartered in North Little Rock and have offices and inspectors throughout the state.

Our regulatory programs for air, water, solid waste, hazardous waste, petroleum storage tanks and mining help protect Arkansas's environment. We issue operating permits for businesses and farms and monitor for compliance.

We also manage programs to assist businesses, educators and the public with regulatory, recycling and other issues. ADEQ offers loans and tax credits for environmental improvement projects.

We Protect and Enhance Arkansas' Environment

The Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality strives to protect Arkansas's priceless natural resources — its air, land and water — from the threat of pollution.

We accomplish this in a variety of ways.

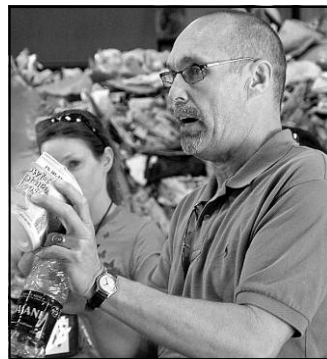

REGULATORY

Our regulatory programs set and enforce safe environmental limits for industries that affect air, water, solid waste, hazardous waste, regulated storage tanks and mining.

PROACTIVE

Proactive programs encourage Arkansans to be good environmental neighbors. We help Arkansas communities develop recycling programs, help small businesses with environmental compliance and much more.

EDUCATIONAL

Educational activities promote environmental citizenship for all ages. We license environmental professionals, involve students in water quality testing projects and conduct a variety of workshops for educators, businesses and community groups.
