

From: Robin G. Roggio [mailto:rroggio@uark.edu]

Sent: Monday, June 23, 2014 10:48 AM

To: Reg-Comment

Subject: Please protect the Buffalo. See water quality research and reports on the subject.

Dear Mr. Doug Szenher,

There are numerous studies with years of research that show the negative impact of large scale hog and chicken farms on the watershed, streams, and rivers of Arkansas and Oklahoma. I have attached some pdfs and provided links to others. Please review this valuable research and try to understand what this hog production operation will do to the Buffalo River. It is a National River and therefore a protected river. The watershed of the river must be protected as well. The Illinois river was polluted horribly before people understood the impact of large scale animal farms on the watershed that feeds a river. Please do not do the same thing to the Buffalo.

http://www.uark.edu/depts/awrc/pdf_files/MSC/MSC-340.pdf

http://www.illinoisriver.org/CEDocuments/Downloads_GetFile.aspx?id=121203&fd=0

<http://www.lithochim.com/documents/ISEST01%20Paper.pdf>

Thank you,

Robin G. Roggio
Borrowing Unit Supervisor
Interlibrary Loan Department
University of Arkansas Libraries
365 N. McIlroy Ave.
Fayetteville, AR 72701-4002
Phone: (479)575-5311 (Borrowing)
Fax: (866)873-9569