Questions Comments:

Why would you base your placement of Big Creek on the impaired list by accepting test from private citizens who are very vocal in their desire to shut down C&H Farms. I implore you to rely only on the test of true scientists, and not citizen vigilantes, to determine impairment on Big Creek. The state has invested serious money to study the impact of C&H, yet you are relying on data provided by those who are untrained as water-quality scientists. That is offensive to those of us who trust sound science over emotion. In addition I believe that blind testing on Buffalo must be conducted by non biased parties before you decide to place the first national river, a river which is touted world wide for its clean waters on an impaired list.
