Regulatory Streamlining: Consolidation of APC&EC Regulation Nos. 18, 19, 26, and 31 Into Proposed APC&EC Regulation No. 35
Regulation No. 35 General Revisions
Previous Citation	New Citation	Comments	Disposition	To be included as part of State Implementation Plan (SIP)?
Regulation Nos. 18, 19, 26, and 31	Regulation No. 35	1) Removed all reserved chapters and sections 2) Replaced undefined acronyms with unabbreviated text 3) Updated terminology to establish consistency throughout the regulation 4) Corrected spelling, grammar, and punctuation 5) Revised language to enhance clarity	Retained without substantive revisions	Yes
Regulation No. 19, Chapter 10	None	Removed Chapter: Regulation No. 19, Chapter 10 was originally approved by EPA in 1980. Pulaski County was designated nonattainment for ozone in 1977 when the ozone NAAQS was 0.08 ppm. The NAAQS was changed to 0.12 ppm in 1979. Subsequent monitoring in 1980 through 1982 showed that Pulaski County had re-attained the NAAQS and the area was redesignated as attainment. The area has remained in attainment of all subsequent ozone standards. Historic air quality modeling for ozone in central Arkansas has shown that ozone development in the area is nitrogen-oxide-limited. Additionally, the modeling has shown that the vast majority of volatile organic compound (VOC) emissions in central Arkansas are biogenic. Due to continued ozone attainment and the lack of evidence that anthropogenic VOC emissions	Not retained	To be withdrawn from SIP contribute significantly to ozone development in central Arkansas, the VOC control requirements currently in place in Pulaski County are no longer needed. Technical information supporting the repeal can be found in Appendix A of this SIP.

Regulation No. 19, Chapter 11	None	Removed Chapter: The referenced regulatory provisions from Regulation No. 26 are included in the consolidated regulation.	Not retained	To be withdrawn from SIP
Regulation No. 19, Chapter 14	None	Removed Chapter: EPA replaced the Clean Air Interstate Rule (CAIR) with the Cross-State Air Pollution Rule (CSAPR) on August 8, 2011. (76 FR 48208). CSAPR took effect on January 1, 2015. Therefore, CAIR is no longer in effect.	Not retained	To be withdrawn from SIP

Regulation No. 35, Chapter 1 Title and Purpose
Previous Citation	New Citation	Comments	Disposition	To be included as part of (SIP)?
Reg. 18.101, Reg. 19.101, Reg. 26.101, Reg. 31.101	Reg. 35.101	Merged sections with minor typographical, stylistic, or other non-substantive language clarification and added new title “Arkansas Air Quality Regulation”	Retained without substantive revisions	Yes
Reg. 18.103, Reg. 19.102, Reg. 31.102	Reg. 35.102	Merged sections with minor typographical, stylistic, or other non-substantive language clarification.	Retained without substantive revisions	Yes
Reg. 18.102, Reg. 19.103, Reg. 26.102	Reg. 35.103	Merged sections with minor typographical, stylistic, or other non-substantive language clarification.	Retained without substantive revisions	Yes
Reg. 18.104, Reg. 19.104, Reg. 26.103, Reg. 31.103	Reg. 35.104	Merged sections with minor typographical, stylistic, or other non-substantive language clarification. The greenhouse gases (GHG) rescission clause was removed. The rescission clause stayed certain portions of Arkansas GHG permitting requirements when the court vacated Step 2 of the GHG Tailoring Rule (80 FR 50199). Because those stayed requirements have not been retained in Regulation No. 35, the rescission clause is no longer necessary.	Retained with substantive revisions	Yes
Reg. 18.601	Reg. 35.105	Renamed “Pre-emption of Political Subdivisions”	Retained without substantive revisions	No

Regulation No. 35, Chapter 7 Upset and Emergency Conditions
Previous Citation	New Citation	Comments	Disposition	To be included as part of (SIP)?
Reg. 18.1102	None	Removed: This provision is outdated. Sources seeking approval for periods of noncompliance due to change of or lack of fuel would have had to file for approval prior to 1972. This would not be available to sources also subject to Regulation No. 19. This provision was likely put in place due to historic oil shortages in the 1970s, but is no longer necessary. No practical effect is expected from removing this provision.	Not retained
Reg. 18.1103	None	Removed: Reg. 18.1103 refers to applications that were referred to under Regulation No. 18 provisions that were removed from the regulation in a previous rulemaking.	Not retained	No
Reg. 18.1104	None	Removed: Reg. 18.1104 is not necessary to preserve the Department's authority.	Not retained	No
Reg. 18.1101, Reg. 19.601	Reg. 35.701	Both Regulation No. 18 and 19 provisions address upset conditions with only minor differences. Because Reg. 19.601 is more updated, contains largely the same information, and the language is SIP-approved, the Reg. 19.601 version of the upset provision was retained in Reg. 35.701.	Retained without substantive revisions	Yes
Reg. 18.1105, Reg. 19.602	Reg. 35.702	Merged sections with minor typographical, stylistic, or other non-substantive language clarification.	Retained without substantive revisions	Yes
