Were the profits so great it didn't matter if the Buffalo River was polluted? The river is already showing more algae. Studies show nitrate levels are consistently higher in Big Creek downside from C+H than above.

Years ago, our church in Wisconsin was uphill from a family farm. Every spring when they cleaned the pig barn, you couldn't open church windows for the stench. Imagine what the children in the school near this factory farm are breathing?

This permit was fast-tracked under the noses of both state and national citizens. Don't renew it! A C+H permit alteration would change from operating under federal regulation to a state version without expiration or a review requirement. How sweet for C+H, Don't renew the permit.
