Facts about C&H Hog Farm:

- It's a true family farm.
- It's one of the most extensively studied farming operations in America.
- Scientific evidence collected on and around the farm shows that the operation is having no negative impact on the environment.
- The farm meets (and often exceeds) environmental standards established by the state of Arkansas and the EPA
- This farming operation should be left alone, the so called "environmentalists" who oppose if do not understand how hogs are raised, nor do they care about the local economy or people. They only think of themselves and their "weekend" cabins/retreats, etc.
