The importance of denying any modification to the permit cannot be overstated. The communities along the banks of the Buffalo River are economically dependent on this irreplaceable treasure, Moreover, to even consider that hog farming in the geology that exists in this area is not a threat to public safety is irrational. That is a fact.

Please make the health of the community and continued pristine beauty of the Buffalo your priority by denying the spreading of hog manure on land that will surely end up in our wells and rivers. The potential for disaster is too great to ignore.
