I'm Ryan Anglin, a dairy farmer from Bentonville, and I'd like to speak in favor of this permit modification. I've been a permit holder since 1988 and we both use a tanker and a traveling gun. They're virtually the same rules apply; you will put whatever the requirements are. Manure is all tested, the land is tested, and it's just like going to town on two different roads. One way you want to go and it's the same miles. You get absolutely no difference in the way you apply and I think that this is ridiculous that they are even having to do this modification. Now it out to have been put in the plan to start with. Thank you.
