

The above locations were monitored for Benzene, VOC, and H₂S at the beginning of the night work shift 4/10/2013. All readings were below the limit of detection for the instruments used.