

The above locations were monitored for Benzene, VOC, and H₂S during the night work shift 4/13/2013. All readings were below the limit of detection for the instruments used.