To whom it may concern,

I ask that you end the moratorium on animal feeding operations in the Buffalo watershed. As a farmer and landowner, I also request that you close the issue.

An article in the June 21, 2014 issue of the Arkansas Democrat Gazette reads:
"EPA finds no issues at C&H Hog Farms".

The Federal EPA has inspected the C&H Hog Farm and found no violations. There is no evidence that C&H Farms is harming the river or that other farms like it would harm the river. The owners of the farm have been willingly open for testing and scrutiny of their operations. They have been found to be good environmental stewards of their land and the watershed.

The Ozark Society Environmental Group is not willing to accept the findings of the EPA the article in the newspaper states. Their argument is completely devoid of any scientific justification. They are beyond reason and should have no further influence upon the Arkansas Department of Environmental Quality nor the Pollution Control and Ecology Commission.

Sincerely,
Cynthia Wilson
