Subject: Public Comment on Permitting of Hog Farms in the Buffalo River Watershed

To Whom It May Concern,

ADEQ should ban all CAFOs from the Buffalo River Watershed. In addition, CAFOs (anywhere in the state) shouldn't fall under the general permitting system as general permits are too easy to get, require too little review, and are intended for discharges that "pose little environmental risk"; a criteria that CAFOs do not meet (see experiences of North Carolina and others).
