I am requesting an extension to December 23 on the report by Harbour Environmental on its investigative drilling to determine if the C&H waste storage ponds are leaking.

The report was presented on December first. To give the public nine days to review a 542 page report and attachments is unjust. ADEQ was so pleased that the report was released before the holidays yet granted an extremely short time to review a complicated matter.

Be reasonable and extend the deadline until December 23.

Sincerely

On Dec. 1, ADEQ contractor Harbor Environmental presented its report on the investigative drilling done to determine if the C&H waste storage ponds are leaking. No conclusions were given and no questions were allowed following the brief presentation. Questions from the public may only be submitted online at drillingstudyquestions@adeq.state.ar.us with a deadline of Dec. 9. (Note that BRWA has requested a revised deadline)

Due to the large amount of technical data contained in the 542-page report and numerous attachments, BRWA has requested an extension until Dec 23 in order to have our experts carefully review the data so that we can fully understand the report and ask informed questions. TI am requesting
